MICRO NEEDLING $375

A minimally invasive procedure that is used to treat skin concerns by stimulating collagen production. This treatment creates micro injuries in the skin. The skin's own healing process after treatment will help reduce the appearance of scars, sun damage, and improves the elasticity. It rejuvenates and plumps the skin with minimal downtime or discomfort.

MICRO CHANNELING

This is an innovative, non-invasive procedure designed to achieve maximum results in minimal time. This method involves creating thousands of tiny puncture holes, facilitating the skin's natural healing process. Increases collagen and elastin; specialty targeted serums, helps improve texture, scarring, stretch marks, and aging skin.

FACIAL RESTORATIVE THERAPY

This micro-needling procedure employs the application of exosomes along with growth factor activators which could enhance skin tightening and diminish acne scarring. This method has the potential to increase skin elasticity, collagen production, and hydration in targeted areas of the face and chest, effectively addressing various dermatological concerns.
